Chêne-Bougeries

Prix de vente : CHF 4'400'000.-

Présentation

This new detached house reveals harmonious architecture where modernity and classic inspiration meet subtly. Designed according to current energy requirements, it offers a living space that is both efficient, pleasant, and sustainable. The interior is organized around open and generous spaces where natural light plays a central role. Large glass openings accompany the volumes and create a natural continuity between the living spaces and the garden, enhancing the feeling of space and well-being. The living room, spacious and warm, is an ideal living space for everyday life as well as for entertaining. The house offers three comfortable bedrooms. In the basement, a fourth independent bedroom allows for discreetly accommodating family or guests or for setting up a home office or leisure space away from the main rooms. Outside, the garden provides a natural extension of the house and allows enjoying a particularly peaceful environment, sheltered from any nuisance. A bright and contemporary property, designed to combine quality construction, pleasant volumes, and modern energy comfort. Parce que chaque client mérite un royaume
